

SUKHBAATAR Amgalan

Amgalan Sukhbaatar is a doctoral student of École Pratique des Hautes Études, working on of urban anthropology. He is conducting a PhD under the direction of Isabelle Charleux, on “The transformations of architecture, urban space and urban life: the case of Ulaanbaatar city from a historical and anthropological perspective, 1990-2020”.

He studied architecture at the School of Civil Engineering and Architecture (SCEA), Mongolian University of Science and Technology (MUST). He completed his studies in 2003 with a diploma of B.Arch, and in 2007 with a diploma of M.Arch. After working on various architectural and design works, he studied urban planning, particularly urban transportation planning at the School of Engineering, the University of Tokyo and received a degree of M.Eng in 2011.

- 1999-2003, BA, Architecture. SCEA, MUST. Title of the diploma project: “Architecture design of the business and trade centre building in Ulaanbaatar”
- 2005-2007, MA, Architecture. SCEA, MUST. Title of the thesis: “The research on the architectural planning of underground structures in urban area – the case of the central area of Ulaanbaatar city”
- 2009-2011, ME, Urban Engineering, School of Engineering, The University of Tokyo. Title of the thesis: “The relationship between pedestrian perception and characteristics of sidewalk environment, in case of the central area of Ulaanbaatar City”
- 2019-now, PhD student. École Pratique des Hautes Études. Title of the dissertation: “The transformations of architecture, urban space and urban life: the case of Ulaanbaatar city from a historical and anthropological perspective, 1990-2020”

Research fields:

- urban anthropology and urban life
- architecture and urban space
- pedestrian perception and pedestrian travel behaviour
- transformation of Ulaanbaatar city

Research papers:

- Amgalan Sukhbaatar, Khishigjargal Bayarsaikhan, (2016) "The relationship between travel behaviour and neighborhood characteristics", The Proceedings of The 10th Korea Mongolia joint Seminar on Civil and Environmental Engineering, 150-153

- Amgalan Sukhbaatar, Gonchigbat Ishjamts, Sugimoto, (2016) "Study on the current situation of traditional dwelling in Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia", National Institute of Technology(NIT), Miyakonojo College Research Book, ISSN 0286-116X,14-18
- Amgalan Sukhbaatar, Noboru Harata, (2011) "The relationship between pedestrian perception and sidewalk environment, the case of the central area of Ulaanbaatar", The University of Tokyo, School of Engineering Research Book

Memberships:

- The Union of Mongolian Architects
- The Committee of Architecture Education, ARCASIA
- La Société des Études Mongoles et Sibériennes, CEMS

Contact:

amgalan.sukhbaatar@etu.ephe.psl.eu
amgalans@must.edu.mn